

THE STONE KINGDOM HAS FALLEN

The next morning Jack and Gilly go and the gargoyles moved and are in a different place. Jack and Gilly go to the keepers of the gates but they weren't there which was weird because they're open 24/7 then they look up to the sky and it as starting to get stormy they went to check the gargoyles and there was something odd about them they were odd ether way but it didn't look right. Later that night there was a tornado it went on 4 hours trees falling houses breaking. After it all it was still stormy and it happened the gargoyles started spitting out snakes so nobody could get out of the town. A tornado tore all the houses down so no one could hide then she came. Medusa came right from the center of the tornado and stared turning people to stone like the gargoyles were.

" gargoyles are protectors they must be cursed"

Gilly said. They were watching in fear until Medusa saw them and turned two people behind them in to stone. Medusa tried to catch them but she couldn't so she summand the snakes from the gargoyles mouth to chase them tell they run in to an abounded shed and found a creepy book that said, "book of spells what does that mean"

Said Jack. "It might be the spells that that creepy girl used on the gargoyles"

Commented [TE1]:

Said Gilly. "Yeah"

Said Jack. They find the spell for the snakes and they say it "OH HALLO BAGH ABEE"

And the snakes went away and they went to Medusa but couldn't find the spell because there wasn't one.

At the end of the book they find the reverse spell for the gargoyles but they don't know how to say the whole world is depending on them then they had an idea they went to the gargoyles and ask how to say and they spelled it out with the snakes they say "TOU SERFTY GOO LOO LA"

The gargoyles start changing in to golden gargoyles and started shooting golden rays of power at Medusa it is absolutely destroying then Medusa turned Gilly to stone and the book said the stone people can't be reversed so Gilly will be stone forever then the gargoyles. Hit Medusa and she left to never to return again. But now they still have a problem the town was destroyed and basically everyone was stone so he flipped through the book and in secret writing it said the reverse to everything in the book so everything would go back to normal so Jack said it "HAHEO MAMOO"

Jack said. And in blink of an eye things were changing back to normal then "what happen"

Gilly asked. "Long story"

Said Jack.

The gargoyles left and everything was back to normal.
